

Music

Baccalaureate Transfer Program

Music courses are a vital part of the humanities area of liberal arts at Danville Area Community College. Students gain an appreciation of diverse styles and genres of music from cultures all over the world. They also have the option of learning about rudimentary theoretical concepts and developing basic musicianship skills. Although emphasis in the curriculum is placed on the understanding of music as it functions in a wider cultural context, rather than on applied music, some courses afford the student more experience with original creativity (either through composing or performing or both).

Program Specific Courses Include:

IAI (Illinois Articulation Initiative) transfer courses:

- Music Appreciation
- Introduction to American Music
- Music History I and II
- Non-Western Music
- College Singers

Transferrable credit for education majors (depending on transfer institution):

- Rudiments of Music
- Introduction to Electronic/Computer Music

Non-transferrable credit course:

- History of Rock and Roll
